Is Channeling a Valid Spiritual Tool?

BY GEOFFREY HOPPE

David Thomas' new book Tuning In is now available from Hampton Roads Publishing, the same group that brought us Conversations with God by Neil Donald Walsh and Megatrends 2010 by Patricia Aburdene. The book, based on the film by the same name, is sure to be a hit with New Agers and it will likely find its way into the hands of many other open-minded or curious humans as well.

In Tuning In, David interviews six channelers including Lee Carroll, Wendy Kennedy, John Cali, Darryl Anka, Shawn Randall and... yours truly. David has a positive approach to channeling because, as he states in the book, some of the messages gave him the inspiration to change his life. But as a trained journalist he remains professionally skeptical, challenging the channelers about their own lives and telling the readers that he came across other channeled materials that smacked of charlatantry.

The launch of David's book brings up an old but still-relevant question: Is channeling a valid spiritual tool? Tobias and Adamus have told us that we'll be channeling ourselves in the future. I hear whispers from some Shaumbra that we don't need channeling anymore. (It's OK, you can say it out loud because even I have ambivalent feelings about the subject.) Some folks on the message board cut right to the bone and say that channeling is disempowering, but then I wonder why they're on the Crimson Circle message board in the first place.

The plain fact is that many people like the experience of a channeling. Experience is the key word here. I remember the first time I went to a channeling. It was in 1997 in Reno, Nevada. I was nervous and anxious because I didn't know what was going to happen; I didn't have a spiritual background and felt slightly out of place amongst the group of 150 metaphysicians. But the moment Lee Carroll allowed Kryon to come forth with the words, "Greetings, I am Kryon of Magnetic Service..." I knew it was much more than words. It WAS an experience and it lasted for days after the actual channel.

I don't remember what Kryon talked about in that first channel but it didn't matter, because I had an experience. And that's what I've loved about good channelings ever since. When I started channeling Tobias in public in 1999, people told me about their experiences. Many times the experiences were profound and life changing, other times comforting or confirming. Rarely did they tell me about a specific phrase spoken by Tobias, but their eyes lit up when they talked about their experience.

One of the values of the type of channeling done by Kryon, Adamus and others is that they are able to articulate what we are feeling, but we can't quite seem to put into words. Do we need channeling? No, but sometimes it's a huge relief to have an entity put into simple words what we already know, but can't quite put our arms around.

After 11 years of channeling I've come to realize that one of the most beneficial aspects of channeling is community. When two or more – and sometimes hundreds and hundreds – of spiritual beings come together for a few days of channeling, the energy of community is like a soothing balm as well as an inspiring light. There's never a workshop that goes by where Linda and I don't notice new friendships fostering and old friendships deepening. Do we need channeling? No, but it's a great excuse to get together with our heart-and-star seed companions, many of whom we've not seen for many, many lifetimes.

What about the information delivered by channelers? Do we really need it? Probably not, because the same information – You Are God Also – has been taught by the mystics and written about for ages. But quite frankly, I find it difficult to read a lot of the old books. My eyes would twirl in opposite directions every time I sat down with a Bible, and the Keys of Enoch gave me thumping headaches. I like my information in Now-speak. I can understand Kryon and Ramtha and Tobias because they don't try to wrap the message in a puzzle. When I first started channeling I naively expected Tobias, and later Adamus, to speak in some ancient foreign accent and use really cool ancient mystical words. Nope. They use my voice and words we can all comprehend. Adamus throws in a few Makyos and Ahmyos to keep it interesting, and they tell me he uses the F and S words once in a while, but otherwise it's pretty straight-forward.

Heck no, we don't need channeling. We also don't need all of the books on the shelves, we don't need televisions and we don't need the Internet. (Hold it a second, I do need the Internet. How else would I connect with friends on Facebook?) We already have everything within us, or so we're told by the very entities that tell us that we don't need them. But I sure do LIKE channeling for the very reasons mentioned above:

1. The experience
2. The community
3. The clarity
4. The story (of our spiritual journey as narrated back to us by Spirit, through the channeler.)

More than a few critics and denigrators will lob barbs at David Thomas, channelers, and the channeling community as Tuning In rises in popularity. Most likely these same critics will never have personally experienced a channeling, they probably never connected with the community, and aren't part of the story. No, we don't need channeling and it's only a rare bird that's hooked on it. But as I conclude this article with a deep breath, I'm grateful for the experiences, the community, the clarity and the story that started with Kryon and continues to this day with Adamus.

BEYOND THE MIND

Mental Imbalance or Spiritual Awakening?

A special symposium with
Adamus Saint-Germain

Del Mar, California
April 8 – 10, 2011

The human mind is the focal point of our 3D reality, and one of the most challenging barriers to spiritual awareness. After countless lifetimes of programming and hypnosis, the mind is at a breaking point as evidenced with the alarming increase in depression, psychosis and neurosis. At the same time, spiritual pioneers are challenged with feelings of mental imbalance as their mind tries to find its new role within an expanded consciousness.

Join together with Adamus and Shaumbra, in the beautiful ocean side town of Del Mar, California, to learn about the causes and dynamics of mental health challenges. More importantly, learn powerful New Energy solutions for keeping your balance in the current upheaval. This seminar is ideal for psychologists, healers, facilitators and anyone with an interest in going beyond their mental abilities.

CREATION SIMPLIFIED

By Dee Wallace—Awakening Zone Host

I think we all make this creation process a lot more complicated and woo-woo than it is. Maybe because it makes us feel more important to do something that is hard and unreachable. Then we can spend lifetimes trying to master it.

Perhaps we are just saying we want to create our lives differently, because that's the "in" thing to be into these days. So we are playing the game and going to the lectures, reading the books, hearing the speakers etc., but not much shift is happening. And the same old shit is!

I mean, let's face it. We mastered new math and advanced trig, wrote reams of term papers, passed driving tests, bought homes, had kids.....and we can't get a handle on THIS? Hmmmmmm.

So let's break down the basics of creation and get some clarity around how simple it is and why, perhaps, we are sabotaging the simplicity.

Number one: Everything Begins With the Thought or Belief. If we think of the thought or belief as a commitment to create something, it gives the importance of it a little more umph. So #1 can also be stated thusly: As You Believe, It WILL Be Delivered to You. That is a commitment you make to yourself, and therefore to the world, because if you are your first creation—and you are—that has to be taken into the creation of everything in your life. If you have thoughts of prejudice, you have committed to creating that in your reality, both from you and toward you. That's the law. So you see how important it is to think consciously, instead of being created upon unconsciously by parental and genetic limiting beliefs, societal fears, and the mass media bombardment of your ever receptive tentacle of information gathering.

The second principle of creation is: What Is Focused On Becomes Created. I always love to use the movie "Little Shop of Horrors" as a great example. If no one had fed that damn plant, it wouldn't have grown and eaten everyone. It is a perfect metaphor for the creation process. If we keep focused on "why can't I?" we'll have a commitment to create more "I can't." When we focus on the disease, we don't create the wellness. When we focus on the lack of money, we don't create the abundance of it. Obviously, our choice of thought, and then the focus of that thought, goes hand in hand. We are not going to have the thought, "No matter how hard I try I still don't have enough," and be able to hold our focus on having enough. That's an oxymoron. Not possible.

The third principle is: Feel Good. Yeah, right. How can we feel good when we are sick/poor/alone etc? The simplest answer I can give you is: choose to. And even as I write this, I can hear all the "yeah, buts..." of the collective rising up to argue for their limitations. And you know, if we argue for our limitations, we get to keep them. And... how's that working for ya? So feeling good is a choice which we must decide to practice, because it supports our intention of freedom/joy/peace/love and bliss. Feeling bad certainly doesn't. And there is no one outside of the self that can choose that for the self.

Unfortunately, we have all been taught that we can't be happy unless the RESULT of something (the money, the relationship, the health, the success) comes out great. The enigma here is that focusing on the result keeps you in anxious fear, which isn't conducive to staying feeling good, which is where you need to be to create! The biggest thing we can do to support ourselves feeling good, other than the simple choice to do so, is to live in the moment and be happy creating. Period. Then you understand the saying, "Life isn't about the outcome; it's about the journey." And it really is, because the journey is what CREATES the outcome. How you choose, how you act, how you react in the moment of now creates the moments to come.

Which brings us to the fourth principle: Consistency. This is where most of us fall out. We are just so darn impatient. Sure, we've thought the same thoughts for thirty years, and now we can't understand why creation isn't different in a week! We start looking for those results, become disappointed and disillusioned, the negative limiting thoughts come back, the depressed emotions waft over us, and we are back at square one, not creating what we want. A dancer can only do five pirouettes because she consistently practiced, kept focused, and practiced some more until the results showed up. We all need to keep practicing Creation till it shows up. What's the worst that can happen? You think happy and feel happy and live in the experience of happy. Not a bad trade off. Unless that isn't enough for you.

And maybe that's where the real challenge of creation lies: do we want to be happy for the sake of living a happy life? Or are we trying to be happy to get stuff? Is the stuff of our magnificent being enough? Or do we need stuff to declare to the world how magnificent we are? The real question is: Can I create myself happy and magnificent with or without the stuff? I accept all the great stuff—but I don't NEED the stuff to live in the experience of how awesome and incredible I Am. My Beingness is enough.

So simply: This is what I choose. This is what I focus on. I am happy. I keep consistent with this formula. I choose to believe it is this simple. After all, I know that "As I believe, it is delivered unto me." And so it is, baby!

Dee's Show, Bright Light, can be heard every Monday evening at 7:00 PM (US Central) on the Awakening Zone radio network.

FROM ADAMUS

ADAMUS SAINT-GERMAIN

INTENSE AND PERSONAL

A LOOK INTO 2011 POTENTIALS

Excerpts from 2011 – Intense and Personal.

So what lies ahead for 2011? It's going to be a very intense year, because there is more energy coming to Earth, coming from Earth, and coming from humans than ever before; more energy from the field of potentials being brought in; New Energy coming in. So you put all of this together and it leads to intensity.

It is a time of great clearing on Earth, great releasing of ages-old issues and ages-old beliefs. At times it could look like everything is falling apart, ripping apart at the seams, but I ask each and every one of you to understand what's really going on. It's a time of change and transformation. As we take a deep breath together and look at the energy and what is really happening on Earth, you'll come to realize that things are not at all falling apart; they're just going through a tremendous, very swift transformation.

These are appropriate changes. These are not mistakes. Yes, you're going to see war and strife and disaster, but I'm asking you, can you understand from a place of compassion that these are appropriate, that there are humans who have chosen this as part of their experience, part of the evolution of their soul? They have chosen to be in these situations, chosen this as a clearing of themselves and their own soul.

I would like you to understand to look at it from the standpoint of the progression and the expansion of human consciousness. And when it is for human consciousness, it also serves the angelic realms. It serves all of creation.

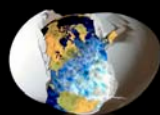

It's very important to understand that 2011 is the time for self, for you, for the I Am. You're going to have a lot of distractions all around you, and it's going to be easy to get caught up in those distractions, but remember these words as this year goes along for you: It's the time for the I Am, a time for you. No matter what's happening in the outside world, those energies can be brought in to support and nurture and to expand the I Am.

This year will be the time to initiate a project – whatever it is you want to do. It's time to come out of the cave. It's time to come out of hiding. Time to open up from your heart, to really live. You're going to find that this year is going to have some shaky times, some difficult times, but you'll begin to understand what true joy is.

It is a time to live. It is a time to rejoice and to celebrate, for all things are really as they are meant to be, and all is well in all of creation.

TUNING IN

Messages From The Other Side

By David Thomas - Journalist and Filmmaker

I embarked on making the documentary "Tuning In" three years ago with the sole (and soul) intent of spreading the profound messages of six amazing channelers. The process was a delight, the finished product well-received. That's where I assumed the journey would end.

But the wise Universe had other plans. Seemingly 'out of the blue,' I was contacted by Deepak Chopra's literary agent who said she thought an expanded version of the film would make a fine book. Of course I had no problem agreeing with her.

After writing a proposal, she took the cow to market and we got a deal with Hampton Roads, the publishing house that gave the world all those wonderful "Conversations With God" books. So I plunked myself down at the keyboard and wrote.

The book Tuning In features the complete transcripts of the six interviews I did with Geoffrey Hoppe (and his counterpart, Tobias), Lee Carroll (Kryon), Darryl Anka (Bashar), Wendy Kennedy (Pleiadian Collective), John Cali (Chief Joseph) and Shawn Randall (Torah). Most of the book is comprised of these Q&A sessions, but it also tells of my own path: how I discovered channeling, how my journey progressed, and the adventure of making the movie.

It's quite a powerful and profound read, and excerpts follow below so you can get a taste for yourself. I also want to mention that the sequel to "Tuning In," called "Tuning In Two," with seven new channelers and all new topics, is not available at www.tuninginmovie.com.

Excerpts from Tuning In

From the introduction: "As our evolution speeds up, as we in a sense ascend, the veil between our physical existence and the spirit world thins. Before we incarnated, we asked our non-physical friends to remind us of who we really are and to keep us on track in this tricky arena of duality. That is why more and more spirit channelers are popping up all over the globe—because we have asked for help in navigating the age we have entered, which some have termed "The Great Shift." There is a silent revolution of consciousness afoot, and more channeled information is a part of it. We are evolving quickly and spirits are coming through to offer guidance, advice, and unconditional love from a broader perspective. With our once-robust economy now anemic and many people feeling downtrodden, confused, and scared, such information couldn't be more timely."

From Tobias: "I'm going to simplify this for you. And perhaps some may think the answer is a bit terse, but: just get over it. You're wallowing in your own self-pity, you've set up an energy of being a victim. A victim of life, a victim of other people. You're allowing them to steal your energy and to steal your heart and your consciousness. You're in a type of trap, and you're letting it happen. You decide one day when you're getting out of bed or one night when you're taking a walk that you're just going to get over it. You're going to stop letting others take from you, and you're going to stop taking from other people as well. You're going to be whole and sovereign. It is truly that simple."

From Bashar: “Passion, excitement, joy, love, that sensation in the body, that excitement in the body, that sense of balance and peace in the body, is the body’s physical translation of the vibratory frequency that represents your true, natural, core, original self. The self you were actually created by creation to be.”

From Kryon: “Magnificent, all of you. My definition of God are the ones I sit in front of. You want God to be one thing, for you are in 3D. You want to worship God, for you are in 3D. I tell you this: The day you start suppressing what you’ve been told and opening the door to what God really is, in will come God, and it’ll have your face on it.

From the Pleiadian Collective: “From the higher perspective, you know, pain serves its purpose. It is a catalyst for change because if you were happy and content all the time you probably wouldn’t move, would you? No. So it serves as a catalyst, and we will tell you pain is perception, nothing more.”

From Torah: “So the Law of Attraction has been oversimplified and we would suggest that it’s far more intricate than it’s often made out to be in its more popular version these days. So we always say to people, ‘okay, Law of Attraction, it’s a wonderful thing, but go deeper, look farther, understand the complexity of what frequency is all about. Understand the complexity of your own consciousness and your subconscious agendas, your subconscious beliefs. Understand them and if some of them need changing, set about to change them.’”

From Chief Joseph: “So anytime you’re doing anything that does not feel good to you, or that does not resonate with you—even if it is a job that’s paying you thousands, and hundreds of thousands of dollars—if it’s something you really dislike, you’re doing yourself a great disservice and you’re distancing yourself more and more from your higher self. You can’t disconnect from your higher self, but you can certainly get out of alignment from your higher self, and that’s what’s happening with so many people today.”

And some of my own conclusions: “None of the channeled entities are more powerful than we are. Let’s be clear: we are making it possible to have heaven on Earth, though since we are in the embryonic stages it perhaps doesn’t exactly seem like nirvana just yet. Our non-physical friends have answered our call to remind us of who we really are, yes, but we are the ones who are melding flesh and spirit, that are becoming human lighthouses. We are realizing all our self-imposed prisons have only shadows for bars.

“The New Game has begun and this time we play nicer. The future is a blank page, and for not much longer will we dip our pens into blood-filled inkwells. This time, this glorious time on this glorious gift of a planet, we write in light.”

NEW FROM ADAMUS!

Everything changes as you evolve into your I Am presence. No longer are you a house divided into separate rooms of biology, mind and spirit. In this insightful message, Adamus Saint-Germain discusses how you are transitioning from your old paradigm into your new Body of Consciousness.

The Body of Consciousness is the melding of your chakra system, physical organs, psychic aspects, physical senses and spirit into a single, unified Self. You are moving beyond your past, present and future states into an integrated Being operating simultaneously in multiple dimensions. You are going beyond the limitations of your physical senses of hearing, smell, touch, taste and sight into a new sensory perception from the core your being. In doing so you transcend the old, hierarchal and linear understandings of dimensions – 3rd, 4th, 5th, etc. – into a new perspective of how dimensions weave into and dance with each other like colors on a painter's palette rather than separated from each other.

In this provocative and enticing discussion, Adamus Saint-Germain defines the new You as a holistic Body of Consciousness in the New Energy. It is both a message and a very personal experience, and the commending energies are very present throughout the entire channel. Adamus suggests that you be relaxed and ready when listening to these words, and definitely don't listen while you're driving a car or performing other tasks.

Feedback from Shaumbra

With Body of Consciousness out for less than a week, the feedback is already coming in. Here is what Shaumbra around the world are saying about it:

"I just listened to "Body of Consciousness". It is, indeed, an amazing experience! I celebrated the awareness of these final steps of integration with the stillness of my tears and feeling the whole of me, through incredible sensations in the entire body... my Body of Consciousness!" ~ Carmen

"It's amazing. I woke up the next day and had to breathe for a while because I had vertigo. Truly sacred." ~ Laurie

"My mind finally quieted down in a way that it has not done in weeks. I'm feeling Ahmyo in my body as well." ~ Shaumbra

"I most warmly recommend this, for me this was the most important of all, really helping me with unification and singularization of my whole system. I am One or very close to it." ~ Laurelin

"Wow, Wow Wow!!!!!! Thanks Adamus for this one. And thanks to all of you who make it possible for Adamus to pass this on." ~ Mariea

"and fuller the second time around. I literally don't know what I would have done without it. Thank You again!" ~ Shaumbra

"Wow! After an extremely challenging January and February, I decided to gift myself with this recording. I have just finished it and felt so many frustrations release. I have felt so bogged down and depressed. This explains to a great degree what has been going on." ~ Michelle

"This channel was my first purchase from the Shoppe and I knew inside I really wanted it. With everything going on (massive understatement) I see this channel as the perfect tonic to the ascension blues. Powerful. You will want to play it often, and give it your full attention. What a year it's been so far. Wow." ~ Finjima

I had already been practicing massage therapy for several years when I found myself yearning for something more in my practice. Enter stage left.... Energy Healing. The list of available forms of energy healing are endless, and in the last nine years I have been trained, initiated, activated and generally immersed in the bottomless sea of "energy healing" within the context of various belief systems that often times profess to deliver levels of healing and light that were before unheard of and allude to the idea that they are best reserved for the properly initiated chosen few.

I was enamored with this newfound world! It was exhilarating and fun to learn how to play with energy in a new way. The truth be known, there is definitely a time and a place for the endless hours of attuning, reiki-ing, white timing, correcting, journeying, matrixing, meditating, pattern tracing, prayer groups and multi-dimensional Lara Croft like adventures geared at saving the world. I really do believe that a great many people, me included, have benefited from one or more of these practices at one point or another. Truly, they have been stepping stones that felt loving and nurturing at the time. Until one day they didn't.

My soul had begun whispering, gently inviting me to turn away from the distractions, but the drug is so seductive. New Age crack, I lightly call it, my description for all these healing modalities that have kept myself and others coming back time and time again. A healer friend of mine was recently

MAKING MAINSTREAM NEWS!

Heide Hoffmann, a DreamWalker Death facilitator in Paremata, New Zealand recently sent an article about DreamWalking to her local newspaper. While they did not print the article, the editor was intrigued and sent a reporter to talk to Heide. She says:

"When I got home today (not knowing that the article had been printed already), I got a call from a lady who said she was giving me her blessings for this work, because there is such a lot of fear of death everywhere. She was very, very supportive and just wanted to wish me all the best. This was a very encouraging start, and I hope this is a good next step to make this type of work more known."

expressing her frustration with a client that could not seem to shift a particular pattern. I found myself saying, "You know, the dilemma is that we can never really choose and breathe for them." Because at the end of the day, connecting to our own soul does not require magic symbols, correcting quantum imbalances, or colors applied just the right way.

So what turned that whisper to a roar? Maybe it was the channel on Sovereign One that Adamus gave in 2009 at The Gathering in Solothurn. Is Sovereignty possible in a sea of belief systems that are so structured and well defined by a soul other than my own? Can another person or technique really apply more than a band-aid to my fears, my imbalances? Big questions for someone that had invested so much time and money in other people's belief systems. I had, in fact, been using many of these modalities in my practice, with limited success, for some time. However, recently the most pure, lively, and effective healing work in my treatment room has occurred when the session is approached with an open attitude allowing for all energies to flow freely without application of something other than what exists in the moment. It is the allowance and trust that are authentic to the person on the table in that moment that seem to bring about the deepest shifts. Playing with potentials and breathing is something that every client can be empowered to experience, and it brings our soul's wisdom to the forefront of the session. In the new energy, being a Standard is quickly replacing being a healer.

So often I feel lifted to new levels of awareness by the beautiful people that appear in my treatment room for bodywork and energy integration. In one session, I witnessed an extraordinary inter-dimensional journey with colors so brilliant they were certainly not of this 3D world. As we began the session my intuition showed me a dazzling copper ribbon wrapping it's self around the client. Expanding deeper into the session she was guided by her own intuition to a dimension where the clarity of heart was crystal. Diamonds sparkling in all their magnificence graced every droplet of water on the ferns, and sparkled in all their brilliance on the crest of endless waves of turquoise sea. Simply put, the potentials held there were endless and divine.

As the client shared with child-like wonder all the secrets and lovely surprises this dimension had to offer, I simply held a space of expanded awareness. That's all that is required on my part and in the beginning when a session would unfold in this way I would wonder to myself if I should be “doing” something else. After all, was this client really paying for me to simply hold a space of expanded awareness? Should I, at the very least, be writing some kind of symbol into her aura? Waving a crystal around, perhaps? At the end of the session the client was left feeling a deep peace and empowerment knowing that she had created this healing space for herself. She also knew she could go back and visit it at any point on her own. I felt lively and engaged without feeling one bit drained or in my mind.

In another session with a different client there was a bit more guidance, but she ran with it quickly. I saw her floating down a river on a lily pad, one that she had inhabited for a very long time. On the shore were various animals and she was floating along at a leisurely pace. A great many fairies and elementals were present and she began to notice other lily pads. They were different from the familiar one she had grown so accustomed to, and by moving her energy from pad to pad she found herself exploring potentials. What does this one feel like? Breathe it in. Choose. What’s the view like? Do the animals respond differently to her in that space? What does it feel like to expand out and inhabit them all at once? Is it graceful to jump from one to another or does it feel cumbersome? How does the breath change with each jump?

It was not a mental process so much as an exploration of energies. This particular client has at times expressed a feeling of stagnation in her life coupled by a fear of change and exploration, sometimes having difficulty leaving the house to be social. This session offered her a way to become familiar with playing with potentials and the next weekend she went to a Halloween party dressed as a fairy and had a blast. She has begun to explore potentials outside of the treatment room and is discovering more and more of her soul.

These sessions are fun and empowering for us both and beforehand I never know what they will hold. There is no plan, no rules or techniques to follow, and that can require a lot of trust on my part. Yet they unfold with far more brilliance than any modality could encompass, and allow for freedom and playfulness that is true to each individual. Breathing and playing with potentials is far more effortless than I ever expected.

Humanity's Question

As I write this it has been barely 24 hours since the devastating earthquake in Japan. I intensely felt the build up of energies over the preceding days, and today I feel the waves of chaos, fear, and dread as the world watches yet another disaster unfold.

We have been told by Adamus and others to expect these things – changes in the earth, the weather, the magnetics, even gravity – so when they happen we know to keep breathing. We know to honor the ones who have intimately participated in these events, even while the human suffering adds to the drama.

But this time, with the latest events, I also feel something different. There is another wave of emotion moving beneath the obvious, an indefinable thread weaving through the consciousness of humanity, and it carries a question most humans have no idea they are even asking.

“Did we fail again?”

I noticed it first in the energies of the ones who have transitioned in Japan, crossing over due to the earthquake and resulting tsunami. Then I began to feel it in humans across the earth, regardless of location, wealth, age, or beliefs. There are many humans who truly feel the end of the world is at hand, who rejoice in the expected soon coming of Jesus. There are also those who feel God is punishing the earth. And there are many more who don't believe in that kind of God yet feel something big and unexplainable is happening. But underneath every façade, hidden from conscious awareness for most, I can sense a fear that “It's happening again.” Because deep within our DNA we remember.

There was another time, so very long ago, when corruption, power games, and wounds to human dignity became so prevalent that destruction wrought itself upon the land and very few survived. Punishment? It seemed so, but it was simply the natural adjustment that must take place when energies become so imbalanced. Over the last few thousand years humanity has returned, in all our glory and ignominy, to try again. As Atlantis rises, more angels than ever are embodied on earth, here to support and experience the shift we have all hoped and dreamed for – even if

New Energy Alchemy:

COMMANDING ENERGY TO SERVE YOU!

Sedona, Arizona USA
June 13-14

Please join us in the beautiful city of Sedona! Adamus Saint Germain will present a special one and a half day Crimson Circle workshop - New Energy Alchemy: Commanding Energy to Serve you!

This workshop will follow the June 11-12, 2011 Kryon Summer-Light Conference.

they don't remember that's why they are here.

So, with one massive disaster after another, the question is echoing deeply through human consciousness: "Have we failed?" It is a heartbreaking cry, because, going by appearances, things seem to be crashing in again. Will it take another eternity to pick up the pieces?

No. Not this time. We have come so far, planted the roots of our compassion so deep and finally found our love within, that this time things are different.

Humanity – and the world itself – doesn't need saved or fixed or protected. Every single human on Earth is an incredibly courageous angel, whether they remember it or not, and is here to make a difference. What the world needs now is reassurance.

What I feel, from the Bible thumping preacher to the pragmatic atheist, from the innocent newborn to the fading grandparent, is that every human soul wants to know that we didn't fail this time. The brave souls who stood at ground zero when the old structures washed away, they want to know that it was worth it, that we understand what's really going on, that we are not paralyzed by fear. Humans want to know that all is truly well, that these are the pains of an Earth rebirthing – not destroying – itself.

I see this. I feel it, and I'm sure you can too. So when you go to sleep tonight, when you breathe, when you sing, when you laugh and when you cry, let your radiance shine. Let your compassion and reassurance gently flow out to hearts around the world – and beyond. Let them feel the touch of an angel in their darkest moments, somehow letting them know the worst need not be feared. Let them hear a whisper deep within that all is truly well in all of creation.

I invite you to radiate your compassion, trust and love so that every soul on Earth and beyond can feel the answer to their question: No, this time we did not fail. In fact Heaven is only now a breath away from Earth.

CREATION – What if Jesus Christ Was An Alien?

The first true alternative to the bible written in the last 2,000 years. The ideology of this book is unique, compelling and mind opening. It not only bridges the gap between scientific and spiritual theories but connects them for the first time. It documents the inter-relationship between our physical dimension and the energy dimensions that control it. A must read.

This book identifies the existence of both negative and positive energy that resides within each human being. What is required to evolve from negative energy to positive through conscious awareness and spiritual awakening. The inner self is the most powerful energy within each of us. My book makes people think about who they are, why they are who they are, and how to change.

CREATION – Easy Solution For Creating Happiness, Self Worth, Abundance and Full Health!

This is not just a book; it is a fun and magical adventure with how-to demonstrations of fulfillment! Beginning with my own enchanting and alchemistic escapades in opening to happiness and abundance, it then shifts to conducting the reader into a safe space to open their hearts (if they so choose) for their own enhanced newly-or-more abundant and joy-filled life experiencing.

It next progresses to self-empowerment (self validation) via a smooth transformational journey of mastering easy, clear solutions to self doubt/lack of self trust, limitations, lack, feelings of unworthiness, depression, emotional instability, problems, difficulties, worries, concerns, undesired challenges and drama; separation and division; other people's choices, interpretations, intent and agendas; illusions, untruths and unserving beliefs.

Simple ways are given to awaken to one's fullest potentials with new ways of self-creating a joy-filled and peaceful Being! Here you may come to actually experience your own budding, blooming and flowering of awakening to your unlimited multi-dimensional True Self!

This is a consciousness-expanding treatise. Parts of this book may at first seem controversial, but is rather a fearlessly utterly unique, but true, simple recipe for upliftment! The mental, linear mind might feel challenged, but hearts will joyfully sing! "The real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new landscapes, but in having new eyes."-Marcel Proust
